GREAT BRITAIN

Great Britain is unique in the way that it is made up of four countries, England, Northern Ireland, Scotland & Wales, more commonly known as the United Kingdom. (UK) The UK's history is truly fascinating, it seems there has not been a moment when it has not been making it, and the last 1000 plus years is still on display for all to see. Each country has its own individual past history, normally very bloody and colourful and involving struggles against English kings, wanting to invade and rule the lands, or unite them as they would like to tell themselves, a part of which was portrayed in the films by Mel Gibson in William Wallace and Liam Neeson in Rob Roy, (Ireland) two martyrs that stood up against the tyrant that was England in the days. But the UK's history has built the UK there is today, with its past exploits around the world, its innovation in industry and engineering and the ruling of the waves, made Great Britain an exciting and interesting place to come and live, so today what makes Britain Great is the fusion of different people that came to live here generations ago, and brought with them their own traditions and cultures that can be found all over the UK, mixed in with 100's and 1000's of years of British History, making it one of the most interesting places in the world to visit, which was clearly seen after the London 2012 Olympic Games.

PLACES & ATTRACTIONS

England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland have so many places to fill any traveller's interest and time, which is why so many come back year after year, discovering new places. All the UK's countries can cater for any traveller looking for a specific experience, whether it is to come and learn its History & Culture, enjoy the world class Golf Courses, take part in a Culinary Experience, or go for something a little more energetic such as Walking - Hiking - Cycling or Horse Ride experiences.

England has amazing attractions for all to visit, Castles, Stately Homes, Steam Trains whistling through the British Countryside, Mystical Structures, Museums & Galleries are what is expected from any visit, but Britain has so much more, Nature Trails, Seaside Resorts with Traditional Fish & Chips, Quintessentially English Villages, with their Quintessentially English Pubs.

Scotland like England has had a very colourful past, which makes it a great place of interest. Edinburgh leads the way and an incredibly vibrant and fun city to visit, and should never be missed. Scotland too has some stunning scenery, an abundance of wildlife both along its coasts and in-land. Famous for its festivals and whiskey there is not a dull moment to be had. Travellers can enjoy an array of entertainment up and down the country, with Highland Games being held all over.

Wales is the UK's hidden gem, with wonderful driving routes, discovering old villages, it has superb coastal towns golf courses and the oldest railway line in the world climbing up Mt Snowdon, to spectacular views of the valley's. It also has great ferry link with Dublin, and until recently Prince William was patrolling the coast with the Air-Sea Rescue Service.

Ireland one of the world's most welcoming places, always ready to entertain and look after any traveller. Another wonderful country that is famous for its music, drink and culinary delights. During the day though there is still plenty of places to visit and see from the newly opened state of the art Titanic Museum in Belfast to the wonder that is the Cliffs of Moher. Londonderry, was host of the UK's city of Culture for 2013, and Ireland has been promoting its "Gathering" inviting anyone that has ties to the country. Famous for its racing horses there are stables open to the public to come and see these magnificent animals. Cork and The Blarney Castle, Killarney and The Ring of Kerry, if your self-driving there is no better place to get lost.

SHOPPING & NIGHTLIFE

Britain is the shopping hotspot of Europe, and wherever you are in Britain or Ireland, the choice of shops is endless. Shop for vintage clothes at street markets; shop for bargains on the high street; discover unusual gifts and new designers wears at unique boutiques or shop for everything under one roof at fantastic department stores and outlet centres - you'll find them all in Britain. Letting our hair down and relaxing at the end of a hard day and week, is something we like to do in Britain, and there is a huge array of evening entertainment to suit all. DAY 6 EDINBURGH

Today is your free day to continue to explore the city with your passes

You have the option to go on the Quest for the Holy Grail

This tour brings Scotland's medieval history to life, but we start with a more modern marvel, the Forth Railway Bridge. As we cross into Fife your guide will tell you about the heroes of Scotland's past who battled in this ancient kingdom.

Visit Dunfermline Abbey...

Your first stop is the town of Dunfermline. Walk down the beautiful nave of Dunfermline Abbey*, the final resting place: of Pobert the Bruce, who battled for Scotland's right to be a nation. Explore Stirling Castle and the city...

Into Stirlingshire and we stop at the beautiful city of Stirling, site of the monument of Scottish hero William Wallace (whose life was dramatised in the film Braveheart). You'll have ample time to stroll through the beautiful and ancient streets that surround it. There is also the chance to explore the stunning castle*.

Visit the site of Scotland's greatest victory...

From Stirling, we head to Bannockburn, the battlefield where Robert the Bruce routed the English in 1314.

Decode the mystery of Rosslyn Chapel... The tour finishes with a historical mystery at Rosslyn Chapel*, made famous in Dan Brown's novel the Da Vinci Code. Is this the resting place of the Holy Grail? No one really knows, but you'll love the chapel and the beautiful walk you can take through Roslin Glen and the ruins of Rosslyn Castle.

DAY 7 EDINBURGH-INVERNESS

This morning you jump aboard your train to Inverness, reaching the highland capital just after mid-day, where you can then drop your bags of at the hotel, and have a great lunch in the city, before going for a tour of this historic city.

City bus tours are the perfect way to see Inverness. Inverness is the Capital of the Highlands of Scotland. Recorded history goes back to 565AD. Let us take you to see the historic buildings of Church Street, through the shopping area and along the River Ness to the leisure facilities at Bught Park. We continue to see the Caledonian Canal Locks and visit Holm Mills shopping village.

Discover Inverness' rich history with City Sightseeing

The name Inverness comes from the Scottish Gaelic "Inbhir Nis" meaning the mouth of the River Ness. The Burgh of Inverness was granted a Royal Charter by King David of Scotland in the 12th century and has grown steadily ever since. Inverness is renowned for being the administrative, distribution and cultural centre of Northern Scotland and through the last quarter of the 20th century, was one of the fastest growing towns in Western Europe. This was rewarded by Inverness being granted City status at the millennium. The city offers a warm welcome to a lively place with a modern outlook with plenty of things to do and see.

Explore the northern Scottish town and all the things to do The open top double-decker bus tour gives an insight into the development of the city from the original street between Castle and Kirk, with the oldest building Abertarff House, to the recently completed Highland Archive Centre. Inverness has had 5 castles through the centuries with many famous visitors, not all welcome, McBeth, Robert the Bruce, Mary, Queen of Scots and Bonnie Prince Charlie among them. Plan your afternoon from the top of a double-decker bus, with 360 degree panoramic views of the city. Visit the one of many churches including St Andrews Cathedral which is probably one of local architect Dr Alexander Ross's finest buildings. On the Western outskirts of the City the tour highlights Tomnahurich Hill and the Caledonian Canal, where you could hop off for a Jacobite Cruise on Loch Ness before taking the higher ground for great panoramic views of Kessock Bridge, The Black Isle and the Inverness Firth out to Fort George. The tour introduces the flight of 5 locks at Muirtown constructed in 1822 by Thomas Telford to bring the Caledonian Canal to sea level. The final section of the tour takes you by the South side of Inverness Castle to see Flora MacDonald's statue, the 3 Graces, then along General Wades road by Bellfield Park to Holm Mills shopping village. Overnight at the hotel.

DAY 8

INVERNESS-GLASGOW

Today you head off to Scotland's largest city Glasgow. Once again aiming to be at the city for mid-day, the afternoon can be spent viewing the city from above. Your open-top bus tour of Glasgow is the ideal way to discover all that is best about Scotland's largest and most colourful city. There are up to 3 departures every hour and you can hop on and off at stops along the route so that you can explore the places of interest that you are hearing about in the commentary. The commentary is provided in English, French, German, Italian, Spanish and Swedish.

Tour Highlights: George Square, Glasgow Cathedral, Glasgow Science Centre, The Tall Ship, Glasgow University, Kelvingrove Art Gallery & Museum, Botanical Gardens and Kelvingrove Park The history of Glasgow, Scotland's largest city is rich and diverse. In its 1400 years Glasgow has been a religious community, a salmon fishing village, a medieval university town, a major centre of trade with North America and the second city of the British Empire, famed for its shipbuilding and engineering.

Today Glasgow is renowned as one of Europe's foremost visitor destinations. Its outstanding variety of museums, galleries and performance venues led to the city being one of the first to be designated European City of Culture.

Victorian Glasgow has left a magnificent legacy of civic buildings that are just waiting to be discovered. Visit the recently refurbished Kelvingrove Art Gallery and Museum where the highlights include impressionist paintings and wonderful medieval armour. Close by take a walk in leafy Kelvingrove Park or visit the campus of Glasgow University to enjoy the panoramic views from the tower. Back in the city centre the Gallery of Modern Art has four floors of exhibition space that attracts visitors and locals alike and to the east the People's Palace, on Glasgow Green, tells the story of the city from the perspective of ordinary working folk. The bustling Merchant City was once home to warehouses and markets. Now it's a sophisticated area of bars, restaurants and housing. This historic area is home to towering Glasgow Cathedral, which dates from Norman times, the Necropolis where many of the city's wealthy merchants are buried and the Provands Lordship, the oldest building in Glasgow.

Glasgow is a city with its own style. A style that is reflected in its modern retail centres (known as "The Style Mile") which attract shoppers from all over Europe. Overnight at the hotel.

A stone slab bearing a Celtic cross and covering the well was un-earthed at the turn of the century (20th). It is now preserved in the west end of the cathedral's nave. The original building was just a wooden chapel and remained so until 1192 when Archbishop John Comyn rebuilt the cathedral in stone. In the afternoon, visit the Guinness Storehouse. Opened in December 2000, the Guinness Storehouse is a whole museum dedicated to Ireland's most famous export, Guinness stout. Entry to the Guinness Storehouse is through a pint glass-shaped atrium capable of holding 10,000 pints of stout, out, and there is a free pint of the magic brew for every visitor at the end of the tour in the spectacular Gravity Bar, which is located on the top floor and offers spectacular views across the city. Continue on to The Irish Museum of Modern - Ireland's leading national institution for the collection and presentation of modern and contemporary art. DAY 6 YORK

Time to check out of your hotel and travel to the north of the country and the beautiful city of York. York's history truly begins with the Romans. The city was founded in about AD 71 when the 5,000 men of the Ninth Legion marched from Lincoln and set up camp. Eboracum, as the Romans called York, was born. In the 19th century York became a hub of the railway network and a confectionery manufacturing centre. In recent decades, the economy of York has moved from being dominated by its confectionery and railway-related industries to one that provides services. There are many historic places for you to see in York including Clifford's Tower which stands as a proud symbol of the power of England's medieval kings. Originally built by William the Conqueror to subdue the rebels of the north, it was twice burned to the ground, before being rebuilt by Henry III in the 13th century. The tower takes its name from one grisly incident in its long history, when Roger de Clifford was executed for treason against Edward II and hanged in chains from the tower walls. With sweeping panoramic views of York and the surrounding countryside, it isn't hard to see why Clifford's Tower played such a crucial role in the control of northern England. Overnight at the hotel

DAY 7 YORK

Another chance to see the sights of this historic city awaits you today. There are many wonderful places to visit including the York Centre which tells the history of the Roman beginnings of the city. You could spend some time visiting the National Railway Museum where you can see over 300 years of locomotive history under one roof with giant halls full of trains including the majestic Duchess of Hamilton, the futuristic Japanese Bullet Train or marvel at the stunning opulence of the Royal Trains. Another lovely place to visit is the magnificent York Minster, which dominates the city skyline. This impressive building had been completed after 250 years of work and is crowned with the stunning tower which can be climbed for those who are brave enough. The Tower weighs 16,000 tonnes - about the same as 40 jumbo jets and has 275 steps to the top. On the way you pass the Minster's medieval pinnacles and gargoyles before reaching the stunning views over the city and the ancient streets below. In the afternoon you could stop for a bite to eat in Betty's Tearoom which is a must for any one visiting the city. Enjoy a bite to eat and a cup of tea before tucking in to the mouth watering cakes. Overnight at the hotel

DAY 8 YORK

Today you would have the chance to visit the beautiful Yorkshire Dales with its beautiful scenery and pretty villages. The rest of the day could be spent exploring the beautiful scenery and the wonderful views from the top of the hill which, in places, stretch in to the neighbouring counties. Overnight at the hotel

DAY 9 LONDON

Once you have checked out of your hotel your driver would start the journey back towards London for your final night. Once you have settled in and recovered from the journey you could spend the rest of the day having a look at the city. London is one of the oldest and historically important cities in the country with its origins dating back to the Roman times and is unusual in the fact that the Romans built London from scratch rather than build over an existing settlement. Within 10 years London had grown to become one of the largest cities in England, was sacked by Bodica in AD60, before being rebuilt soon after even bigger and better than before. Over the centuries many changes have taken place although signs of the Roman start can be found from Roman roads which are still in use to this day to long forgotten ruins which surface when the footings for new buildings are begun. In the evening you could enjoy dinner in one of the many top class restaurants in the city. Overnight at the hotel

From St Paul's your tour then continues on to the Tower of London where you will have the chance to see the history for yourselves. Founded by William the Conqueror in 1066-7 and enlarged by successive sovereigns, the Tower of London is one of the world's most famous and spectacular fortresses. Kilkenny Tour

Depart Dublin for Kilkenny and en route stop at Moone to see the ancient Celtic Moone Cross, which stands 17 feet high and carries 51 sculptured panels of scriptural scenes. Arrive in the historic medieval town of Kilkenny and begin your tour with a visit to Kilkenny Castle. Completed in the 13th century and the Chief Seat of the Butler Family, Earls and Dukes of Ormond until 1937. The Castle is beautifully preserved and houses many beautiful paintings and furnishings. Visit St. Canice's Cathedral, which dates back from the 13th century and maybe the site of the 6th century Church of St. Canice's. Much repair and restoration has been carried out over the years, especially after the havoc wrought by Cromwell's soldiers who left it a roofless church. Visit Kilkenny Design Centre where you can choose from some of Ireland's finest handmade crafts. Free time for shopping before returning to Dublin.

THE FOLLOWING TERMS AND CONDITIONS APPLY TO ALL BOOKINGS MADE WITH GBDMC LIMITED BY PHONE, FAX, EMAIL OR ONLINE.

* ENTRANCES NOT INCLUDED

The User accepts that the written or emailed booking confirmation and voucher show the details of the booking made with the service supplies Please check it and make sure that it is correct so as to eliminate all possibility of an error or misunderstanding. Should any of the details be incorrect or any terms and conditions unacceptable, please contact us within 24 hours from receiving the specific service confirmation, Whereby GBDMC acts as an agent for a service provider, a contract is set up between the service supplier and the end customer. The service supplier own terms and conditions also apply Full details of the service provider's terms can be supplied on request as these vary from supplier to supplier.

Accommodation star ratings displayed within GBDMC's website are provided by the accommodation or service suppliers and are their own ratings obtained having inspected them. These frequently conform to the British understanding of the star ratings in order to provide consistency across different countries. Ratings also display our views of the overall "package" of quality comfort, facilities, and service. They do not automatically mean that a specific facility is present and available. Accommodation ratings can also be higher or lower than official ratings, since the latter sometimes do not reflect the real standard of the hotel for bureaucratic or historic reasons.

One or two star rating indicates a simple accommodation with a minimum set of facilities and amenities, Rooms, Apartments or Studios may not be newly decorated unless it says so in our accommodation description, but they will be clean and of an acceptable level of comfort. Rooms are often small, and breakfast, where available, can be somewhat basic. Ideal choice for guests on limited budget. Not ideal for "special" occasions or for business travellers requiring comfort and a responsive service.

Three star rating reflects a higher level of comfort and facilities, often with a higher decorative style. Often indicates the standard of a quality accommodation at good prices, although room sizes and breakfast, where available, can still vary quite considerably from country to country. Usually it is the minimum required, and that we would recommend, for business travellers.

Four star rating usually portrays a very comfortable, with good facilities and good level of service, accommodation. There are large and attractive public areas, bars and often a restaurant. However, in some small hotels, the four stars rating is purely an indication of comfort and good service. They are the ideal choice for "special occasions, and a frequent choice for business travellers

Five star rating indicates a luxurious accommodation, with extensive public areas and very attentive service Five star (+) Superior and above indicate outstanding accommodation that offers all possible facilities and amenities with tremendous service, luxurious surroundings and normally demand a high price tag Twin and double room issues Since hotels often have many more twin rooms than doubles, they might occasionally allocate a twin even though a double room is reserved. If a double bed is of paramount importance for the booking, we suggest that you advise us of this using the remarks section and we will ensure that this is communicated directly to the hotel's reservation team in many destinations and properties, all double rooms are made up of two single beds pushed together and made up as a double bed Twin rooms may contain two single beds or one single bed and a rollaway

Triple and quadruple rooms A triple room usually comprises one double bed plus a single bed, or three separate beds. Single beds may be foldable or rollaway beds. A quadruple room has same layout as that of a triple room with an extra foldable or rollaway bed. Either configuration may result in a room of restricted space. A family room may be a better choice in some properties as their layout is specifically designed with extra space in mind. Bookings with ten guests or more are considered as a group booking. Groups can often benefit from lower prices per guest but the property has the right to apply certain pre-conditions, that will be made clear at the time of booking. Group bookings must never be split into multiple smaller bookings. The individual hotel's payment and cancellation policy regarding group bookings will be confirmed with each group reservation enquiry

Special offers These normally involve free nights, early booking discounts, offers depended on guests residency status as well as special offers for senior citizens or single parents Long stay bookings cannot be split into two to benefit from more free nights in both cases, such split bookings may be refused by the hotel on arrival or rack rates charged. Offers based explicitly on guests' residency status are binding and users should ensure that their leading client's passport reflect that Check-in and check-out times may vary from hotel to hotel. Check-in cannot normally be guaranteed before 15:00 hrs, and check-out is normally necessary by 11:00 hrs. During trade fairs, religious holidays and festivals hotels often impose supplements or do not offer the usual price reductions, often resulting in higher than usual hotel published rates. Such price distortions can happen at any period when rooms are very scarce, and is applicable to ensure that some availability is there for our clients. We will only sell a room at higher than the published rate if we feel our clients interests are better served by having this room rather than finding nothing available at all. For such busy periods and only at the client's request, we sometimes find rooms in hotels that we have not necessarily previously checked but have been reliably recommended to us. We do this, as a service at difficult periods and our users accept that we are acting in good faith, by relying on a third party for such hotels not vetted by GBDMC

Payment for a service is due at the time of booking. Regardless of whether vouchers have been issued or not, your booking may be cancelled if payment has not been received, or if payment is still outstanding for any other unrelated service made by the same Customer A payment deadline is always clearly displayed at the time of booking and should be respected by both parties. A written confirmation by GBDMC is required wherever the deadline cannot be honoured by our clients.

Our website prices may vary due to a fluid pricing model based on participation and availability, world currencies fluctuations, significant world developments or government action However, such variations can only apply to future bookings. Once a booking is made, its price is fixed.

Despite our best efforts, at times, an error may result in a price or other details of a service or services being displayed or presented within our website, incorrectly, In such a case we reserve the right to cancel that service only. You will be notified in such a case and if a payment has already been taken, and you will be fully refunded the amount for that service only although any other services that might have been booked will be honoured.

When we are notified of, or discover, an error or omission we will do our best to correct it as soon as is practicable.

Cancellations All hotels have their own cancellation policies and you will be liable to pay any cancellation charges that the hotel may levy. In most cases, these charges are equivalent to the first night of the stay when cancellation is later than 48 hours prior to the guest's arrival in the hotel. If any further charges are applicable, these will be advised at the time of booking Similar charges will apply to a non-show, or an early curtailment of the guest's stay For practical reasons, 48 hours means by 1700 hrs (UK time) two days before arrival. For group bookings as well as all other ground services such as attraction tickets, tours, entrance fees, car hire, catering and transfers, similar cancellation charges may apply Such charges will be made known to the user at the time of the original booking.

Cancellations outside our office hours should be sent by e-mail direct to the hotel with a copy attached to GBDMC as well The hotel and GBDMC reserve the right to cancel any bookings that we suspect, with good reason, to be fraudulent

Any potential required changes to the duration of the stay or room allocations prior the guest's arrival should only be arranged through GBDMC and not the hotel directly.

Children Discounts infants under two years are accommodated free of charge in a cot, unless otherwise advised at the time of booking. Pricing policies for children may vary from one hotel to another. Children between two and twelve years who may be free of charge in accommodation terms may still be charged on board supplements. Any child discount received often applies to the board supplement as well, unless it is specifically stated that it is on terms only Children aged 12 and over are normally charged as adults unless otherwise indicated at the time of booking.

GBDMC must be advised of any children under the age of 18 planning to travel alone

(or with similar aged friends) prior to booking, and such arrangement must be additionally agreed by the hotel, before the reservation can be fully confirmed. Failure to notify the hotel in advance, may lead to children under the age of 18 without an accompanying adult being refused accommodation.

In the very unlikely event that the hotelier cannot provide the booked accommodation our client accepts that the hotelier's responsibility is limited to finding an alternative of a similar standard and to providing transportation as appropriate to this property GBDMC takes every reasonable precaution to select hotels that are professionally managed so that any such occurrence is exceptionally rare, Our client also accepts that early notification of such a change cannot be guaranteed. GBDMC shall have no liability in respect of any costs, losses or damages existing out of or in connection with a relocation of accommodation, since such relocation is outside of GBDMC's control. Should our client reject a satisfactory alternative, this is at their own risk.

If guests are dissatisfied with any aspect of their hotel, this MUST be brought to the attention of the hotel management immediately and the hotel management must be given adequate opportunity to rectify the situation from the outset. If the hotelier cannot resolve matters to the guest's satisfaction, GBDMC must also be contacted at the earliest opportunity in order to be able to assist. If having taken the above actions the guests are still dissatisfied, complaints should be received in writing within 14 days of the guests return to our UK. office address displayed at the Contact Us section.
